

Eleftheria Bernidaki-Aldous, Ph.D.

(professor III - Classics) prepared the "Program for a Minor in Classics for Deree"

She was a participant at the World of Ideas VI lecture series on November 12-16, 2001 at The American College of Greece, organized by the Student Union, whose focus was reflections on the September 11 attacks and gave a talk on "The Day After: The Role of Classics".

She was guest lecture at Colby College in Waterville, Maine at the invitation of the Department of Classics as part of its Peter A. Vlachos Lectures in Classics series and spoke on "Seers and Singers in Homer" on February 12, 2002. She also addressed the Colby student body and the wider community on "Attitudes Toward the Handicapped, from Ancient Greece to Modern U.S.A." on February 11. She attended the Balkan and European Conference for the Visually Impaired on January 30- February 1 in Athens and spoke on "Experiences of the Blind in the Work Place" as a member of a panel that discussed "Models of Professional Rehabilitation of the Balkan Countries".

She also attended the Opening Program and Ceremony of the Declaration of the Year 2003 as the European Year of People with Handicaps at the Megaron Moussikis in Athens on January 26, 2003 as a member of Confederation of the Handicapped of Greece.